

DAILY WELLNESS PLANNER

This Daily Wellness Tracker is a spiritual and holistic self-care tool designed to bring balance, barakah, and intentional living to your day.

There are four versions of this tracker:

- Guided with Nutrition & Fitness
- Guided with Expanded Reflection
- Unguided with Nutrition & Fitness
- Unguided with Expanded Reflection

Choose the version that best supports your goals and make a copy for each day — whether you're focusing on physical health or deepening inner awareness.

Morning Section

Morning Setup Date & Day Selector: Mark the current date and circle the day. This helps track habits over time.

Niyyah (Intention): Write down your main spiritual or personal goal for the day. This sets the tone for mindful action. E.g., "Focus on praying all of my salaah."

Shukr (Gratitude): Write one thing you're thankful for. Gratitude reframes your mindset and opens you to abundance. E.g., "Having my health."

Morning Checklist Tasks: Includes simple actions like making your bed, praying, reciting Qur'an, dhikr, reflection, morning sunlight exposure, and hydration.

*Tip: Completing these helps activate your body, soul, and mind.
Think of it as laying a solid foundation for your day.*

Nutrition Meal Planning: List out your meals at the start of the day (Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner, Snacks).

- Check Boxes: Tick when you eat each meal.
- Health Rating Circles: Circle from unhealthy (left) to healthy (right) to reflect how nutritious your choices were. This builds mindful eating habits.

Hydration Droplets: Each icon represents a cup or bottle of water. Aim to color in at least 5-8 daily.

Movement & Exercise Activity Log: Record what you did—walk, gym, yoga, etc.

- Indoor vs. Outdoor: Helps reflect on your exposure to fresh air and natural light.
- Duration: Track how long you moved. Even 10 minutes counts.

Sleep Health: Fill in your perceived quality from 1 (poor) to 5 (excellent). This encourages wind-down routines and awareness of sleep patterns.

Evening Section

Spiritual Wind-down: Include activities like Salah, Qur'an, dhikr, reflection, and preparing your bed.

- Tip: Choose ending the day with calm rituals improves sleep and spiritual connection and avoid blue light and screens.

Self & Spiritual Ratings: Circle your performance in each of the following, from low to high:

- Productivity: Did you manage time well and stay on task?
- Fitness: Did you move your body today?
- Self-Care: Did you do something kind for your emotional or physical well-being?
- Connection: Did you connect meaningfully with others or with yourself?
- Khushoo: Were your prayers focused and heartfelt?
- Taqwa: Were you mindful of Allah throughout the day?
- Nafs: How well did you manage ego, desires, or impulses?
- Overall Rating: A visual summary of your day.

Salaah Tracker: Rate each prayer by quality of presence and punctuality. Mark 'X' if missed.

- Insight: Helps you track patterns, pinpoint struggles, and celebrate wins.

Istighfar (Repentance): Write where you struggled and ask Allah for help. E.g., "Avoid watching TV tomorrow."

Tomorrow's Niyah: Set a focused, doable intention for tomorrow. E.g., "Go for a walk after I eat and avoid distractions."

Tips for Success:

- Keep it visible: Keep it on your desk, wall, or bedside.
- Use as a self-check: This is a tool, not a test. Be honest, not harsh.
- Reflect weekly: Review past pages to track growth and course-correct.
- Build streaks: Aim for consistency in key areas like salah, water, and sleep.
- Make it spiritual: Pair each section with intention and dua.
